The United Nations organisation

Mr Ban Ki-moon

Excellency,

I am sending you this open Email in order to draw your attention to the fact that we have started an initiative to try and democratize the organisation of the United Nations as the most important international organisation in the world.

As I am sure you are aware, United Nations structure is uniquely undemocratic primarily because of the existence of veto right.

You are undoubtedly also aware of the fact that many nations of the world hardly take any notice of the Security Council's resolutions precisely because of the undemocratic nature of the organisation's voting system.

In addition to the facts already mentioned promotion and advocacy of democracy in the world by such an organisation whilst admirable, is not only ineffective but also hypocritical.

Allow me Sir, without wishing to sound pompous or appear patronising to state that in the history of mankind those decent individuals who were brave enough to propose and pursue certain just causes, however farfetched to others, are surely those who have revolutionised life on this planet for the better and whose names are registered in history with respect and admiration.

I truly hope and pray that you will join us and indeed as is appropriate guide us to achieve our aim which is purely humanitarian.

If this initiative with your support and leadership is gradually brought to its logical and intended conclusion it will be without any hesitation a valuable service to humanity at large and surely sir this is a legacy to which you could aspire and of which you could be proud.

Yours very respectfully
